Dear parents and carers,

Changes for after half-term

In addition to this week's newsletter, I just wanted to write to update you with regard to some changes which will take place after half-term.

As you will be aware, the building project is continuing to schedule at the current time. As previously planned, Italy and Greece classes will both be moving into the new building as soon as we return to school after half-term. At this time, United Kingdom class will also be moving into the mobile classroom, while the refurbishments within the main building take place, as this will give them more space than their current room affords.

I also wanted to inform you that after half-term, Mr Price will be self-isolating for two weeks following a planned holiday to France during the half-term break. The holiday was booked prior to COVID travel restrictions being imposed and Mr Price has been unable to cancel his travel arrangements. However, please be assured that he will continue to plan and teach the class remotely during this time and will also continue to mark work, adjust planning accordingly and offer the children in Greece class feedback. School staff, with whom the children are familiar, will continue to support the children within the classroom during this period.

Of course we are mindful that the restrictions related to COVID-19 are ever changing. As such, although this remains the plan at the current time, the situation between now and 2nd November when we return to school could change. I will of course keep you updated.

Thank you for your continued support

Kind regards
